

DETAILS OF LATHAM WILL.

Additional Bequests to Hopkinsville People Are Made Known.

MISS GLASS GETS 25 THOUSAND.

His Memphis Relatives are Generously Remembered, Also His Employees.

A New York paper says: The will of the late John C. Latham, of the firm of Latham, Alexander & Co., bankers, of 16 Wall street, was filed in the Surrogate's office. The petition set forth that the testator left personal property valued at more than $10,000 and that he did not leave any real estate in this State.

To the city of Hopkinsville, Ky., the testator devised the family homestead in that city, to be used as a park, to be known as "Virginia Park," and he bequeathed to the city $20,000 to lay out the grounds. The testator also devised to the same city a lot of ground to be called "Peace Park," together with $10,000. He directed that no ornamental fountain shall be erected in Virginia Park.

The testator in the will directs the executors to invest $50,000 in high grade, long date bonds and turn them over to the Grace Protestant Episcopal church of Hopkinsville, the income to be used as the rector, vestry and church wardens shall deem fit.

To the city of Hopkinsville the testator left $60,000 in 4 per cent bonds, the income from which to be used for the benefit of the poor of that place.

The testator left $25,000 to be distributed by the executors among the employees of the firm at 16 and 18 Wall Street.

To his gardener, James Lee, he left $1,000.

The testator left to his widow $10,000 in cash and the residue of the estate after the payments of the specific legacies and devises. The residuary estate was understood to be very large.

The testator left to the Farmers Loan and Trust Company in trust $200,000, with directions to pay half of the income therefrom to his daughter, Alice Latham, until she attains the age of 18 years, and then to pay her the entire income until she is 85 years old, when she is to have the principal.

To Catherine and Jean Allen, of Memphis, Tenn., and to Gracie Getty, of Yonkers, the testator bequeathed $5,000 each. To his nephew, John C. Latham, of the United States navy, he left $25,000, and to his mother-in-law, Ellen H. Allen, the testator left $25,000. To Miss Sadie L. Everett, residing at 398 West Fifty-sixth street, the testator bequeathed $10,000 in these words: "In recognition of her faithful and efficient services as my stenographer for many years past and of her kind and affectionate attention to her mother." To his namesake, John Latham Allen, the testator bequeathed $1,000.

Another paragraph of the will read: "On account of my regard and affection for my partner, Chas. Fraser, I give to him cash $5,000."

To his brother-in-law, Harry Allen, of Yonkers, the testator left $15,000, and to Mr. Allen's wife $5,000. To his sister-in-law, Mrs. L. M. McFarland, of Memphis, Tenn., the testator bequeathed $10,000, and to Richard H. Allen, of the same place, a like amount.

To Miss Jennie Glass, Hopkinsville, he leaves $25,000.

The will was executed on June 18 last and names as its executors, Charles Fraser, Harry Allen and William G. Bristow, who are to serve without giving bonds.

SECOND REGIMENT TO ATTEND CAPITAL FAIR

Adjutant-General Gives His Consent For The Boys in Blue To Go.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 30.—Adjutant-General P. P. Johnston Monday gave tentative acceptance to an invitation from the Capital Fair directors to have the men of the Second Regiment of the Kentucky State Guard, who will be encamped here this week, attend the fair on Friday as the guests of the fair. A committee composed of Messrs. George H. Harper, W. S. Farmer and John H. Cassell called upon him and gave the invitation, which will be accepted should not anything occur to prevent it.

It is proposed now to make Friday "Military" day at the fair. The soldiers will march through the city out to the fair grounds, where they will maneuver and have dress parade in the large enclosure within the one-eighth of a mile track. After that they will disband and take in the fair, and probably return to camp by boat.

Arrangements were concluded today for the operation of four steam boats to and from the fair grounds every fifteen minutes by Burdett, Woods & Company. A fifteen-minute schedule will be carried out, a boat leaving here every fifteen minutes, from the St. Clair-street wharf for the grounds, and returning likewise.

Brick Southworth, of this city, is detailed with this Regiment as commissary officer, also Lieut. Henry W. Rogers as assistant range officer.

GEO. M. WILLIS DEAD.

Veteran Railroad Man Passes Away at Horse Cave.

Geo. M. Willis, former dispatcher at this place and a veteran railroad man, died at Horse Cave, his former home, Tuesday night, August 17.

Mr. Willis has been in bad health for some time owing to a nervous breakdown and a stroke of partial paralysis, and was moved to Horse Cave recently in the hopes that it would benefit his health.

Mr. Willis had been with the L. & N. for a number of years, and was one of their oldest employees in length of service. He began as an operator when still young and worked for them until death.

He was chief dispatcher on the St. Louis Division for a number of years at Evansville, and was later transferred here, where he worked as dispatcher until his nerve condition compelled him to quit. He then worked a trick here for some time, moving to Morganfield and taking the agency there on the opening of the M. & A. Upon the death of Agent D. M. Woolridge, agent at Madisonville, Mr. Willis was transferred there and assumed the agency, which position he held until death.

Mr. Willis is survived by a widow and three children, one of whom is Conductor A. B. Willis, employed on the L. & N. The remains were taken to rest last Wednesday at Horse Cave.

GREEN RIVER DRAW BRIDGE COMPLETED

Structure Ready For Use On the Madisonville, Hartford and Eastern Railroad.

The draw bridge over Green river at Smallhous, on the Madisonville, Hartford and Eastern railroad, has been completed and turned across the channel. Boats approaching this bridge are compelled to give the usual signals for the bridge to be turned.

Work on the new road, on which trains will soon be in operation to Madisonville, is progressing nicely and it is believed by promoters they will have trains running into that city in the early fall. Several miles of track have been built out of Madisonville and the crew of men on the Hartford road are rapidly laying steel toward that city.—Hartford Republican.

W. S. TAYLOR COMES BACK TO KENTUCKY.

After Nine Years of Exile Returns to Native State, But Will Not Stay.

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 30.—Kentucky has a visitor tonight who for nine years was an exile from his native state because of his alleged connection with the assassination of Senator William Goebel, former Governor William S. Taylor, who now lives in Indianapolis, and who was pardoned several months ago by Governor Wilson, of all charges against him growing out of the Goebel murder. Taylor was in Louisville last night.

He says he will never return to Kentucky to live as this state has brought him too much sorrow already, his wife and daughter having died of broken hearts as the result of accusation against him. Taylor will probably visit his old home in the Butler county mountains before returning to Indianapolis. If he does a public reception will be tendered him by his former townspeople.

Home Talent at the Rink Monday Night.

Monday night at the Rink Mr. W. S. McGary secured the services of some of our local talent to crowded house and they were highly appreciated as was shown by the loud and continued applause. Mr. Lee Withers rendered a beautiful song entitled, "Blue Feathers." "My Rambler Rose", by Mr. Ed Trahern, was well received. Cliff Long's selection "If I had a thousand lives to live," was exceptionally good. One of the largest houses ever in the city enjoyed these songs and the moving pictures.

Compulsory Education Law.

Section 172 of the School Law of Kentucky provides that every parent, guardian or other person in any city of the fourth class having control or supervision of any child or children between the ages of seven and fourteen years inclusive shall cause such child to be enrolled in and attend some public or private day of parochial school regularly each school year for a full term or period of said school. Section 173 provides that any parent or guardian failing to comply with Section 172 shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction be fined for the first offense not exceeding $25 and for all subsequent offenses not more than $100 or imprisonment in county jail for not more than 30 days or both in the discretion of the court.

FORMER PASTOR RETURNS TO LECTURE PLATFORM.

Paducah Man Recovers From Unfortunate Drug Habit and Resumes Work.

Paducah, Ky., Aug. 30.—The Rev. G. W. Briggs, formerly pastor of Methodist churches at Paducah and Owensboro, and the greatest orator in the Southern Methodist church, but who recently was arrested in New York for stealing small articles from drug stores and pawning them for money to buy a drug, is in the city.

He has returned to the lecture platform, which he graced for a time after his retirement from the ministry. He appears to be entirely cured of his habit.

Joseph Leiter Denies Mine Sale.

"I'll sell anything I've got if I can get more than I think it's worth," said Joseph Leiter last night when he put a price of $8,000,000 on his mines at Zeigler, Ill.

Mr. Leiter's statement was in answer to a report that he was about to sell his mine to a syndicate of Eastern and Chicago capitalists who are said to have inspected the property recently. He denied any deal was on foot or was projected, but added he would sell if he could get his price. The mine has been closed since February, when a disastrous explosion occurred in the colliery. He states that the present price of coal does not warrant his working the mine, but that he would open it again in time for the fall business.

It was also reported that the Illinois Central Railroad had abandoned Zeigler since the mine closed. F. H. Harwood, coal traffic manager of the road, denied this. "We have taken the agent away," said Mr. Harwood, "as his only duties were the billing of coal shipments. We are still running trains through Zeigler and will continue to do so. As soon as the mine opens again we will put an agent at Zeigler."

THREE-CORNERED FIGHT

Is on for Superintendent of the New Kentucky State Capitol.

Frankfort, Ky., August 30.—A three-cornered fight is on before the state capitol commission for superintendent of the new building. W. E. Bidwell, of Louisville, a well known newspaper man, is urged by Gov. Willson; Judge Wells, of Grayson county, by Treasurer Farley and Secretary of State Bruner, and H. T. Beatty, of Beattyville, by Auditor James and Attorney General Breathitt.

Kentucky Horse Show.

The prize-list for the Louisville Horse Show, the tenth annual exhibition of which will be given at the First Regiment Armory in the metropolis of the State during the week of October 11, has been completed, and indicates that the horsemen of this State and country at large will have a rich array of money and plate to contest for. The total amount will run well over $12,000, and insures competition by the finest horse-flesh in the country.

Kentucky saddlers, as usual, have a large place on the program, as they have always had. The three-gaited and five-gaited saddle horses, for which this Commonwealth is as famous as for its thoroughbreds, have been included into classes such as suggest themselves to the ability to do will be considered in making awards. Mat Cohen, the Ball Brothers, the Gay stable, Lawrence Jones and other noted owners of saddle horses will have entries this year.

In the harness classes the Louisville show will be, as usual, almost unequaled. Last year the features of this division were the exhibitions of Alfred G. Vanderbilt and Judge William H. Moore, and it is practically certain that both will be back this fall. In addition C. W. Watson, Miss Emily Bedford, Reginald Vanderbilt and J. W. Harriman are expected to show. Altogether, the prospects for the show are unusually brilliant.

$78,000 FOR KENTUCKY

Annual Appropriation For State Militia.

Washington, Aug. 28.—Four million dollars, appropriated by Congress for the militia, has been allotted among the several States and Territories by Lieut. Col. E. M. Weaver, of the general staff, corps of the army, who is chief of the division of militia.

The enlisted strength of the militia as shown by tables prepared by Col. Weaver, is 109,861 and the allotment under various heads include $1,472,150 for arms and camp purposes; $490,650 for promotion of rifle practice; $628,561 for ammunition, and $970,656 for supplies.

The allotment for the States and Territories in round numbers include the following: Illinois, $194,000; Indiana, $91,000; Kentucky, $78,000; Mississippi, $58,000; Missouri, $116,000; New York, $340,000; Ohio, $170,000; Tennessee, $66,000; West Virginia, $44,000.

Joseph Hibbs Dead.

One of the oldest and most prominent farmers of Hopkins county, in the person of Joseph Hibbs, of the Grapevine country, was removed from the walks of life Thursday morning at 7:00 o'clock. The end was not unexpected for he had been gradually sinking for several hours before the summons came.

Death was due to intestinal trouble and congestion, resulting from a fall sustained Tuesday morning. From that time he commenced sinking and it was soon recognized that the end was near.

The deceased was 78 years old and has lived all his life in Hopkins county. He was known throughout the county and numbered his friends by the score. He was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church at Flat Creek and lived a christian life.

Mr. Hibbs is survived by a widow and eight children: Mrs. Rose Ligon, of the Nebo country, Mrs. Mollie Smith, of the Earlinton vicinity, Mrs. W. A. Toombs, of Earlinton, Mrs. Green Clark and Mrs. Robt. Peyton, of Mortons Gap, Elgie Hibbs, Earlinton, and Charlie Hibbs, Madisonville, and Mrs. Kate Hibbs, at home.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Wallace, of Brodways at Flat creek. Interment at the same place.

Capitalist Drop Dead.

Slaughterville, Ky., Aug. 31.—James Rakestraw, capitalist and one of the largest land owners in this county, dropped dead at his home near here. He was eighty-seven years of age.

Some of the most important information in today's paper is

AIR LINE FROM COAST TO COAST.

Seaboard Air Line and C. B. & Q. Connected by Tennessee Central.

WILL PASS THROUGH HOPKINSVILLE AND PADUCAH.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 30.—The Burlington system is going to establish an air line through Nashville, connecting the grain fields of the Northwest with the Atlantic coast, and affording Nashville shippers 28,000 more miles of railway and two big trunk line.

In this the Tennessee Central will play a conspicuous part, as it will be the connecting link between the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy at Paducah and the Seaboard Air Line at Rutherfordton, N. C. and it means that the Burlington System will acquire the Tennessee Central or that it will be operated as the connecting link between the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy (the Burlington system) and the Seaboard Air Line.

This also means that the big railroad men have their eyes on the Southeast, and intend to develop its resources by giving an air line from St. Louis, Chicago and the Northwest through Nashville, Knoxville, Sevierville and Eastern, and thence to Rutherfordton and the Seaboard Air Line direct to Wilmington.

To effect this the Tennessee Central will build from Hopkinsville to Paducah, a distance of seventy miles, where the road will connect with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy (the Burlington system) at Metropolis, Ill., which is just across the river from Paducah.

This will give the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy a direct line from St. Louis, Chicago and the Northwest into Nashville via the Tennessee Central from Paducah. The Tennessee Central will afford an outlet to coast through Harriman, thence over a new line to Knoxville, a distant of eighty-five miles, and from Knoxville to Sevierville over the Knoxville, Sevierville and Eastern to Sevierville, thirty miles, where it will connect with the Seaboard Air Line at Rutherfordton and thence to the coast through Nashville.

WILL COMPEL CHILDREN TO ATTEND THE SCHOOLS

Compulsory Educational Law Goes Into Effect in Ohio County Next Monday.

Rockport, Ky., Aug. 30.—The public school term at Rockport, Ohio county, will begin on Monday of next week. Ohio county being one of the counties to which the compulsory education law applies, the directors of the district have announced their intention to have the law enforced to the letter.

Notices have been posted throughout the district explaining the matter and notifying parents as to the consequences in case of its violation.

The law requires that all children between the ages of seven and fourteen years in the district affected shall attend school. Parents or guardians who fail to do so will be fined.

FACTS ABOUT MOTHER EARTH.

Points of Interest Concerning This Wonderful Globe, as Vouched for by Scientists.

Our dear old earth which seems immovable and solid as we go about our daily work or travel over its furrowed surface, is yet spinning, and rolling, and swaying in complex but orderly motion. Its axial rotation gives us day and night. Its circuit round the sun brings the seasons and the year. The circling of the poles produces the procession of the equinoxes. The planets perturb in its courses. The plain of its orbit sways up and down, and its perihelion is slowly shifted. The moon swings it around a center of gravity common to both, while the sun and all our system speeds onward to some far distant goal. And if the bright star in the Taurus is the central point round which this vast orbit sweeps then Alcyona is the center of the universe for us.

As far as astronomers can judge this motion through the vast abyss of interstellar space is at the rate of about a million miles a day, and it is in the direction of the constellation Hercules. The motion through space is believed to be away from Argus and toward Hercules. Some have thought that Alcyona in the Pleiades is somewhere near the center of the vast circuit swept over by the sun and his attendant worlds. If this is true, that beautiful star as it silently twinkles in the constellation Taurus becomes of surpassing interest to mankind.

Wood Chopping as a Sport.
In Tasmania is to be found a national pastime that is special and particular to that state alone—the sport of wood chopping. At Hobart and Launceston they have their turf meetings, their cricket, football, golf, cycling, and so forth, but to a wood-chopping contest people will flock from far and near—men, women and children—and watch the ax wielders hewing away at huge blocks of timber as if life and reputation depended upon the issue. Then, too, and to the axes, and the splinters fly in all directions, the judges calmly sitting near taking note of the strokes, the spectators cheering the competitors from time to time as frantically as if they were race horses. To be a wood-chopping champion means something to a man in Tasmania.

Crowding the Scenery.
The late Elmer Macartney Lane, the novelist, used to tell a story to illustrate the conviction she cherished that a superfluous detail in a story is a blemish and a disappointment. "Up in Gloucester one summer," said Mrs. Lane, "I remember the eternal amateur sat on the beach and produced a picture which included sea, sky, rocks, boats, wagons and people for a great artist to criticize. The latter looked at it a minute and then said quietly: 'Why didn't you put in the city of Chicago?'"

"I think most of us in our work to-day," Mrs. Lane concluded, "try to put in the city of Chicago."
Ireland's King Record.
When Ireland was in the king business it made a record which all the rest of the world can't beat. From A. D. down until the English began their tricks Ireland had 76 kings, and out of the lot only six died in bed. Sixteen were killed in battle, seven were slain by their successors, six fell by plain assassination, three were killed by thunderbolt, two died of plague, four entered monasteries, two were drowned, one died of grief, two were deposed and one was choked by a fishbone.

Golden Mean

Fit Into Your Work or Get
Out of It

By JOHN A. HOWLAND

MOST young men entering business should prepare for an almost inevitable depression which follows the elation natural upon securing a first entry into a chosen work. In proportion as this untold work is the ambition of the young man, the novice has reason to anticipate this mental reaction. In this way often the first few weeks of the young man's apprenticeship may be the most trying, and yet the most influential period of his life.

"Yes, I made a mistake in not sticking there when I had a chance," is the typical expression of regret that many a man has had to make when, later in life, he has been able to look back upon an opportunity which he has let slip him because of its undervaluation.

When it is considered that thousands of young men, too, take up their life work with no great attraction to it, this problem of preparation for the discouragements of the undertaking becomes especially momentous. In the life of most young men prior to entry into business most of their actions have been prompted wholly by the sense of enjoyment and pleasure to be found in them. They have cultivated intolerance for the disagreeable facts of life. In the case of such a young man, drawn to an especial work through rosy anticipations of its duties, the chance for a smashing of his idealism is serious.

Work in the abstract is a serious thing. It requires the serious attention and best efforts of the worker. Expenditure of these forces entails the physical and mental weariness which so easily leaves the worker open to the intrusion of depression. The condition is absolutely normal, yet often it invites the abnormal nursing of such a feeling until the victim has lost all sense of proportion with reference to himself.

What is the trouble with this dissatisfied young man? Somewhere between this dissatisfied young man and his employer something is wrong. To determine just what that trouble is and to correct it as soon as possible is essential. If the young man is at fault he cannot discover the truth too soon. If the employer is at fault, the change cannot be made too speedily.

The serious trouble with the young and inexperienced man, however, is that nursing his intolerances he may have an exaggerated view of his own hard position which his lack of experience elsewhere cannot serve to restore to an equilibrium.

Disaffection in the young employee is not wholly undesirable. Probably one of the blackest marks that might be set against the young worker could come of an absolute sense of satisfaction in his present work. To be supremely content in his present work, nursing no ambition even in secret to better his work in the world, must be indicative of decay. Here and there the necessities of business may make such a man desirable, but more often it is something upon which the organizer frowns.

Manifestly, somewhere between disaffection and the calm of absolute content, the young man must find the golden mean. He cannot escape the obligation which rests upon him to decide. "Looking for a job" too long has been exaggerated out of proportion to its importance; to reconcile one's self to a life work is of infinitely more importance. Fit into it—or get out. You can't escape the exaction.

German Capital Without Shums
By DR. PAUL ENGELHARDT

Berlin is a huge and splendid city, without slums. Its workingmen are more decently and comfortably housed, therefore, than the wage earners of the other large European centers. Once it had some squalid and insanitary dwellings approximating slums, in which the poorer class lived, but the municipality bought up the entire district and tore down the wretched shacks. To-day thousands of its working people reside in the cleanest and most inviting parts of the city. Very often their abode is what is called a hinterhouse—that is, a small domicile built in the rear of some petentious apartment building. These usually look out upon the garden of the front house and usually consist of a couple of bright, sweet rooms, a kitchen and bath. For this sort of residence he will pay about $2 a week.

The German workingman does not have to wrestle with the out-of-employment problem to the extent that makes life a burden to the breadwinners of most lands. It would be a hard task to engage a man by the day in Germany, for under our law a worker must be given eight days to four weeks' notice before his employer can tell him he is no longer needed.

In addition he must be given opportunity to find a new place of service and the time he takes in looking it up must not be deducted from his wages. Altogether, I should say that the condition of those in Germany who make their living in the sweat of their brow is better than in any nation unless, perhaps, the United States.

Prophecies Never Come True
By CLAUDE D. WHEELER

From time to time letters are printed prophesying all sorts of calamities with apparently no foundation other than the writer's yearning for a chance to leap into the limelight—the "leap" being supplied by any disaster that should chance to happen which they could claim as a fulfillment of their prophecy, even if the forecast has to be bent and twisted to fit the disaster.

One curious fact about these "prophets" is that they seldom, if ever, prophesy anything good or cheerful. One predicts the destruction of all of Chicago lying south of Madison street. Another, a Michigan man, gratuitously makes the pleasant assertion that all of Chicago and all of the animals on the earth will be destroyed.

1,000 BODIES RECOVERED

HUNDREDS ARE SEEN FLOATING DOWN STREAM.

Villages Along the Shores of Santa Catarina Are Completely Washed Away.

Monterey, Mexico, Sept. 1.—The total number of bodies recovered from along the shores of the Santa Catarina river total approximately 1,000.

In Monterey nine hundred is the total, while meagre reports from along the valley increase the number.

But little is known of the loss of life and property damage outside this city. Reports meagre from points down the valley but it is known the village of San Francisco is totally destroyed. The town of San Juan badly damaged, and the town of Camargo to the Rio Grande is reported to have been completely washed away. A rider from Caderyta, this state, stated to the Associated Press correspondent that twenty bodies had been recovered from that place, that hundreds had been seen floating by with the flood and that on his trip from Caderyta to Monterey there was not a person in the ground or an arroyo that did not contain from one to ten bodies left there by the receding flood.

51 YEARS AT SAME DESK

W. Hallam's Service as a Telegrapher Without Losing a Day —Is Never Ill.

Washington, Del., Sept. 1.—Isaac W. Hallam, the grand old man of the telegraph service in the United States, has completed the fifty-first year of continuous employment at the office of the Western Union company here to-day.

During all that time he has not missed a day at his desk with the exception of a furlough of one week that he took at the time of his marriage in 1858.

For continuous service as a clerk in connection with a telegraph company his record is unparalleled. For years he has reached the telegraph office at 6 a. m. to the minute and he has been just as punctual in leaving for home at 4:15 p. m. It is a fact that he has never been set upon the daily appearance of this man.

Hallam is in his 82d year, having been born at Mamaroneck, N. Y., on May 22, 1828. He entered the service of the Western Union company in Washington on Sept. 1, 1858, and he has not been ill during all these years.

W. GATES FEES MINISTER

Preacher Who Married Him and Got $5, Now Gets a Check for $1,000.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 1.—As John W. Gates, financier and mining operator, was stepping into his private car here, a white-haired man had grown old preaching the gospel, stepped up to him and said: "Hello, John."

"How are you, Mr. Foster?"

"Mr. Gates.
Years ago the white-haired minister of the little Methodist church at St. Charles, Ill. There one day, a member of his congregation, a young man and Della, the girls in the Sunday school, were singing. The man was John W. Gates. The minister was W. H. Baker who has been

New Oliver No. 5

Sets Swiftest Pace Ever

Known in Typewriter Selling.

The wonderful new model Oliver No. 5, has taken the market by storm.

Its reception by the public has exceeded in enthusiasm anything we had dared to anticipate.

Employers and stenographers alike have welcomed it as the one machine that answers the multiplied need of the hour.

The cry is for Speed! Speed! Speed!—and the Oliver responds.

The demand for Durability is filled by the sturdy, steel-clad Oliver. To call for a writing machine that will do many things and do each of them equally well, the Oliver answers with its unexampled versatility.

—Its visible writing saves the strain on eye and brain.

—Its legibility lends beauty to its work. The letters that bear the Oliver imprint are the letters that seen to speak.

Oliver No. 5 fairly bristles with new and exclusive time-and-saving features. We have space to mention only a few of the more important ones.

—Disappearing Indicator shows exact printing point.

—Balance Shifting Mechanism saves operative effort.

—Line Ruling Device is fine for tabulated work.

—Double Release doubles convenience.

—Non-Vibrating Base insures stability. Yet with all of these added improvements, we have still further simplified the Oliver by fusing brains with metal.

Oliver No. 5 is a dream come true, —the dream of Thomas Oliver crystallized into this wonderful mechanism of shining steel that embodies every possible requirement of a perfect writing machine.

Ask the nearest Oliver agent for a Free Demonstration of Oliver No. 5. Or send for The Oliver Book—yours for a postal.

The Proper Question.

The man with the glassy eye and preternaturally solemn demeanor put down a sovereign at the booking office at Charing Cross, and demanded "a ticket." "What station?" snapped the booking clerk. The would-be traveler himself. "What stations

May Have Been Acolap.

The man who cannot remember the date of his birth is a person who is hypnotized by the thought of his inability to remember the date of his birth. He must be hypnotized by the thought of his inability to remember the date of his birth. He must be hypnotized by the thought of his inability to remember the date of his birth.

Night On Bald Mountain.

On a lonely night Alex. Benton, of Fort Edward, N. Y., climbed Bald Mountain to the home of a neighbor, tortured by Asthma, bent on curing him with Dr. King's New Discovery, that had cured himself of asthma. This wonderful medicine soon relieved and quickly cured his neighbor. Later it cured his son's wife of a severe lung trouble. Millions believe it's the greatest Throat and Lung cure on earth. Coughs, Colds, Croup, Hemorrhages and Sore Lungs are surely cured by it. Best for Hay Fever, Grip and Whooping Cough. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

Wants a Ham Sandwich Mine.

Really, we cannot fully express our pleasure at the discovery of a new diamond field in South Africa. Now, if a ham sandwich mine, near enough to Macon for our children to work in, could be located, our happiness would be complete.—Macon News.

Constipation causes headache, nausea, dizziness, languor, heart palpitation. Drastic physics gripe, sicken, weaken the bowels and don't cure. Doan's Reglets act gently and cure constipation. 25 cents. Ask your druggist.

Unsurveyed Land in Arabia.

The London Times of recent date shows that Arabia is considered as containing one of the most considerable areas of unknown land in existence.

Hoppy Hop.

Are you just barely getting around by the aid of crutches or a cane? Unless you have lost a limb or have a deformity—if your trouble is rheumatism, lumbago, sprain, stiff joints, or anything of like nature use Ballard's Snow Liniment and in no time you can throw away your crutches and be as well as anyone. Price 25c., 50c. and $1.00. Sold by St. Bernard Mining Co., Incorporated, drug department.

Food for Pet Owls.

Young owls are easily raised on fresh meat. Up to the age of four or five weeks, beef and mutton finely chopped make a good food. After that, mice, rats and English sparrows, served whole, are in great demand and come nearest their natural food. These, if not too large, they will swallow whole.—St. Nicholas.

To Be Happy

You must have good health. You can't have good health if your liver is not doing its duty—slow but sure poisoning is going on all the time under such circumstances. Ballard's Herbine makes a perfectly healthy liver—keeps the stomach and bowels right and acts as a tonic for the entire system. Sold by St. Bernard drug store, Incorporated.

By Order of the Deceased.

An Atchison man died lately, and when his remains were viewed at the funeral a placard was lying on his breast which read: "Now, will you let me alone?" There is a good deal of talk about the affair. The undertaker says he placed the placard there at the last request of the deceased.—Atchison Globe.

A Narrow Escape.

Edgar N. Baylies, a merchant of Robinsonville, Del., wrote: "About two years ago I was thin and sick and coughed all the time and if I did not have consumption, it was near to it. I commenced using Foley's Honey and Tar, and it stopped my cough and I am now entirely well, and have gained twenty-eight pounds, all due to the good results from taking Foley's Honey and Tar." Sold by St. Bernard Mining Co., Incorporated, drug department.

Bagged a White Tigress.

From India comes a story of an Albinot tigris: A white tigris, eight feet eight inches in length, has been shot at Dhenkana state, Orissa. The ground color was pure white and the stripes were of a deep reddish black. The skin has been presented to the rajah of Dhenkana, who has had it mounted and placed in his palace. The hunters of that country say that it is the only white tiger they have seen.

Testifies After Four Years.

Carlisle Center, N. Y., G. B. Burhans writes: "About four years ago I wrote you that I had been entirely cured of kidney trouble by taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy. It entirely stopped the brick dust sediment and pains, and all of the symptoms of kidney trouble disappeared, and after four I am again pleased to state that I have never had any return of those symptoms, and I am evidently cured to stay cured." Foley's Kidney Remedy will do the same for you.

Sold by St. Bernard Mining Co., Incorporated, drug department.

His Vain Regret.

A Duluth four-year-old hopeful, who was receiving an application of the corrective rod, looked to his offended mother, who had told him of his misbehavior, and said: "What stations

Cold Storage Eggs.

Some of those eggs now going into cold storage may never come out again, but will remain, like the gold reserve in the Bank of England, as a part of the capital stock of the cold storage concern. In some future geological era, as they are dug up, the experimenters of the day can have great fun seeing whether or not they will hatch out.—Chicago News.

$100 Reward $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Fate of the First Reformer.

The first reformer in any movement has to meet with such a hard opposition and gets so battered and bespattered that afterward, when people find they have to accept his reform, they will accept it more easily from another man.—Lincoln.

The Road to Success

has many obstructions, but none so desperate as poor health. Success to-day demands health, but Electric Bitters is the greatest health builder the world has ever known. It compels perfect action of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, purifies and enriches the blood, and tones and invigorates the whole system. Vigorous body and keen brain follow their use. You can't afford to slight Electric Bitters if weak, run-down or sickly. Only 50c. Guaranteed by all druggists.

Simple Cure for Stuttering.

A German writer declares that stuttering can be cured by simply enforcing the rule: "Do not open your mouth till you are quite clear in your head exactly what you want to say."

"Had dyspepsia or indigestion for years. No appetite, and what I did eat distressed me terribly. Burdock Blood Bitters cured me."—J. H. Walker, Sunbury, Ohio.

True Love.

There is but one mate for each man and woman in the world and until they recognize the fact and learn with patience to await the note of absolute conviction which is the one infallible guide to happiness, marriages will fall as they fall now and the church will give its empty blessing to those ill-assorted pairs whom God forever leaves unblessed.—Exchange.

Have You a Baby?

Then watch it closely. And above all things don't let it suffer any length of time and with worms—that is fatal. If its complexion gets yellow and pasty, if it is listless, cross or peevish, gets thin, suffers with flatulence give it White's Cream Vermifuge. ### Fate of the Spanish Woman.

Evelyn Mitford, writing in the Queen, says that the women of the lower classes in Spain do not make calls nor read books, and have no "parties" in the American sense of the word. They do their household work and go to church, and that is all there is of life to them. Their husbands are very jealous of them, and they grow old and weary before their time.

A Common Error.

Many people delude themselves by saying "It will wear away," when they notice symptoms of kidney and bladder trouble. This is a mistake. Take Foley's Kidney Remedy, and stop the drain on the vitality. It cures backache, rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles, and makes every trace of pain, weakness and urinary trouble disappear. Why suffer longer and risk having Bright's disease or diabetes.

Chance for a Bet.

Atchison people seem determined to force a certain bachelor to marry. For 20 years they have been "talking" about him, and wondering if he is going to marry this one or that one. Why can't people let the poor man alone? If he wants to be a bachelor, whose business is it? Every time he "goes" with a new girl, Atchison people begin betting on the result. (And incidentally we will bet five to one that his present steady doesn't land him.)—Atchison Globe.

Of Interest to Many.

For indigestion and all stomach troubles, take Foley's Orino Laxative. It gently stimulates the liver, regulates the bowels, and positively cures habitual constipation and biliousness. Clears the complexion of pimples and blotches, and is especially recommended for women and children, and it is mild, pleasant and effective.

Pig Errantry.

The report of the cattle market committee presented at Colchester town council the other day contained an item as to a pig starving, followed by "Resolved, That the town clerk communicate with the offender, warning him against committing any offense in future." It was touching to hear that penitent animal giving its word of honor that nothing of the sort should occur again.—London Globe.

Has Poetry Enough; Wants Wood.

We have on hand more poetry than we can find room for. What we need is more wood. It is true the poetry is pretty wooden, but it doesn't fling out the warmth of oak and pine. We therefore prefer an ordinary load of wood to a cord of poetry.—Adams (Ga.) Enterprise.

Enthusiasm.

Nothing is so contagious as enthusiasm. It is the real allegory of the tale of Orpheus. It moves stones, it charms brutes. Enthusiasm is the genius of sincerity and truth accomplishes no victories without it.—Bulwer Lytton.

Saved by Brass Helmet.

Brass helmets worn by English fire fighters occasionally prove useful. At a recent fire 14 tons of glass fell on one man's head and completely buried him and when he had been dug out down to his shoulders another shower of glass came down and buried him again. He was in a hospital for four months and glass was coming out of different parts of his body for six months afterward, but he is still one of the best men of his company.

Cheeriness.

Cheeriness is a thing to be more profoundly grateful for than all that genius ever inspired or talent ever accomplished. Next best to natural, spontaneous cheeriness is deliberate, intended and persistent cheeriness, which we can create, can cultivate and can so foster and cherish that after a few years the world will never suspect that it was not an hereditary gift.—Helen Hunt Jackson.

The Spinster's Prayer.

"Dear Lord," is the favorite prayer of an Atchison spinster, "make me to see every time I come to thee with complaints what my married brothers and sisters have to put up with from their children, that I may cease my complaining, and be duly grateful that thou hast seen fit in thy wisdom to make a carefree spinster of me."—Atchison (Kan.) ## COLORED COLUMN.

S. R. DRIVER, EDITOR.

The revival at the Baptist church on in full blast. Rev. J. R. Evans is a revivalist of the first order. Several have professed a hope in Christ, while the mourners' bench is filled nightly with seekers for their soul's salvation. The officers of the church are ably assisting their pastor. We hope the good work will go on, and while we are on another fence, yet they have our prayers and presence when possible.

Mrs. Wm. Hancock entertained a few intimate friends at a lawn party on Saturday afternoon.

A clipping from a Kansas City newspaper gave the first news of the tragic death of Rev. H. H. Gordon, formerly pastor of the Baptist church of this city. The facts are as follows: Rev. Gordon and his wife had been away from home. On their return, the strong smell of gas roused their suspicion that some of the pipes were leaking. On entering the house he struck a match, which instantly ignited the gas with which the house was filled. Gordon was horribly burned all over the body, and his wife badly burned about the head, face and arms. Two doctors were hastily called, but all their efforts were in vain and Rev. Gordon passed into "The Silent Beyond" in great agony. Rev. H. H. Gordon, so well known here, was a great preacher; denominational without fanaticism, brave without bragadoos, generous without flattery. When the U. M. W. threatened Earlinton and caused much anxiety on the part of the St. Bernard Co., no man stood or worked more assiduously, or stood more strictly or encouraged our people more earnestly to stand "pat," as he put it, than he, now he has gone to his reward. As a pastor, a citizen and a man he was idolized by all, and all knew him well. He was buried in Kansas City, so reported, although at first reported that he would be brought to Henderson, Ky. To-day Earlinton, Henderson and many others assemble around the grave, and with tear-stained cheeks, breathed silent prayers to Him "who notes the sparrows when they fall." All that can be done is done, so we unite in saying, Rev. Gordon, farewell, "requiescat in pace."

Rev. P. S. Smith, who has been attending the Negro Business League at Louisville, has returned. He reports a great meeting and much important business transacted.

Mrs. Whitson Eaves, who has been seriously ill for some weeks is some better at this writing.

Mrs. Boyd Fort is still somewhat indisposed.

Jeane X. Moore's little boy is very sick at this writing.

Mrs. Janie Morton is quite sick at this writing.

Mrs. Alice Tindell and daughter, Gladys, have returned to St. Louis.

Lucian Moore, who has been quite sick for some few days, is improving.

Mrs. Ben Frazier, who has been visiting friends and relatives in Gethse has returned.

Hamphrey Woodson is visiting his brother in Hopkinsville.

Garfield Fort and Miss Stella Hayes were married in Evansville, Ind., on the 26th, inst. It is reported that the happy young couple will grace Lake street, No. 49.

The member of Eastern Star will spend Saturday in Dawson. We are satisfied that the outing will be both profitable and enjoyable.

Miss Sallie Williamson will leave soon for Indianapolis on a visit to friends and relatives.

The citizens of Mortons Gap, Massey, Hecla and Earlinton cordially requested to meet the cemetery committee at the new cemetery at Barnsley the second day in September, at 8 a. m., purpose of selecting and family burial lots. Bring which to work. The la-urnish dinner. Come stay all day.

HURLED 90 FEET IN THE AIR

Bodies of Dead Beyond Recognition—Arms and Legs Are Scattered About—Cigarette Thrown Aside Lights Fuse.

Key West, Fla., Aug. 23.—As a result of the explosion of seven hundred pounds of dynamite at Bocaheica, twelve miles from Key West, on the Florida East Coast railway, twelve men are dead and five others seriously wounded.

Nine of the workmen met instant death and three died while being brought to the hospital here. The men were hurled high into the air and the bodies of the dead were almost beyond recognition, arms and legs being torn from the bodies of some while the faces of others were mere masses of flesh.

When the explosion occurred, the workmen were standing in water four feet deep and directly beneath them was the seven hundred pounds of dynamite ready for the blast when the men should stop work for dinner.

Cigarette Lights Fuse.

According to one of the wounded, a workman—one of the nine to meet instant death—threw a lighted cigarette to one side, not noticing that it fell into the box containing the fuses which were connected with the heavy charges of explosives beneath them. A few seconds and the men, water, mud and dirt were thrown seventy to ninety feet in the air.

12-Year-Old Harry Hutchings Confesses to Murder of Step Father Because of Punishment.

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 23.—In the confession of 12-year-old Harry Hutchings that he in cold blood shot to death his stepfather, Thomas Carraher, at New Virginia last February, detectives and county authorities say they have cleared up the most amazing and baffling murder mystery in the annals of Iowa.

Carraher, who was rated worth $100,000, was found dead near his home last winter under circumstances that did not preclude suicide but pointed to murder. Mrs. Carraher, whom the dead man married some years before through a matrimonial agency in Delaware, had gone back to visit at her old home and received notice of her husband's death there. She returned to New Virginia, attended the funeral of her husband, displayed no emotion, and within six weeks married George Brand, a Western cowboy, whom she took into her service after the murder.

SCIENCE MEETING OPENS

BRITISH ASSOCIATION NOW IN SESSION AT WINNIPEG.

About 1,500 Savants Hear the Annual Address of Sir Joseph J. Thomson, the President.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 25.—About 1,500 savants assembled here to-day at the opening session of the annual meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, universally recognized as the greatest body of scientists in the world. Some 500 of those in attendance are from Great Britain, the others being members from America and other lands. Many of them are accompanied by their families, and they are being entertained in numerous private residences as well as in the hotels of the city.

Naturally most prominent of all the scientists here is Sir Joseph J. Thomson of Cambridge, England, the eminent physicist and president of the association. His annual address was the chief feature of the first session, and was listened to with the utmost interest. Among the other noted men present at the meeting are Francis Darwin of Cambridge, son of Charles Darwin, and Prof. E. Rutherford, who became famous for his researches concerning radium. Many interesting papers will be read to the association, among them being one on "The Chemistry of Flame," by Prof. H. B. Dixon of Manchester, and one on "Our Food from the Waters," by Prof. M. A. Herdman of Liverpool. Wednesday of next week the meeting will close with an address by Prof. J. H. Poynting of Birmingham on "The Pressure of Light."

After adjourning many of the visiting scientists are to make an excursion to the Pacific coast, and the cities along their route have planned to entertain them most hospitably.

When the St. Louis banker decided to build the Crystal City & Valde railroad, young Franklin persuaded his father to let him rough it and work on the road. His father acquiesced and the boy has been tamping concrete on one of the piers of the Nueces river bridge, over which the railroad will pass.

TO RISE IN BUSINESS LIFE.

Some Few Essentials Must Be kept in Mind, and One of These is Advertising.

A man may have several carloads of ability. He may have brains and ideas and other desirable things. But all the ideas ever "ideated" will not avail to raise a man who neglects that all important item of advertising. You simply must get attention. Of course, you can get attention by firing off a revolver during office hours, or you can do it by wearing loud clothes and proclaiming your kinship in the sporting fraternity. But most men who have risen from the ranks have carefully neglected to use methods of this kind.

Every office man must act as his own salesman. He must first prepare himself by increasing his efficiency. He must be able to do the work for which he is hired. Not only should he do that for which he is hired, but he must do that work better than it ever was done before.

When that item has been attended to it is then time to look about for more work.

The wise employe will keep his eye on the job ahead, or, better still, will look at a job which does not exist, but which should exist for the good of the business. The next step is to think out a selling talk that will get the attention, arouse the interest, create a desire, and bring about in the mind of the employer a desire to do what the live employe desires him to do.—The Bookkeeper.

WAS NOT STRENUOUS WORKER

Youth Forced to Confess That His Duties Were Not What Might Be Called Arduous.

The son of a rich father quit college a few weeks ago—he was in love, he explained, and couldn't keep his mind on his books. He wanted to go to work and make a place for himself in the world. So his father got him on the payroll of a bank in which he was a director. The young man's sweetheart—in her second year at Vassar—kept writing him how proud she was over his independence and asking just what position he held so she could tell the other girls. The young man side-stepped the question as to his prominence in the bank's organization, until, finally, his intended wrote him a peppery letter, saying that if he didn't give her the information by return mail she would be real angry. Then, after much thinking, the youth wrote her this:

"I've wanted all along to tell you about my position and would have done so before had I known myself. About all I do here is to raise a window when I come in the morning and put it down when I leave in the afternoon. The rest of the time I read or watch the others work. I don't know just what you could call my job. Better tell the girls that I'm the draught clerk. That will come the nearest to describing my duties."

Where Caesar Crossed Thames. Where did Julius Caesar cross the Thames? This sounds like one of the questions set by staid old examiners in search of information they failed to acquire in their youth. There are perhaps as many places claiming to be the site of the famous fording as there were claiming to be the birthplace of Homer. This week Brentford has stolen a march on other places and has erected a monument commemorating Caesar's crossing of the Thames there! Most historians and topographers agree in placing the point of crossing at Haulford at a point known as Cowey (i. e., Causeway) Stakes, and but little support is found for the Brentford theory. To many people a monument is the most convincing of evidence, and though there is little tradition to support the Brentford column, that column will no doubt serve to strengthen the tradition.—London Chronicle.

IS NEED FOR DEFINITE RULE.

Writer in Woman's Publication Deplores Custom of Indiscriminate Gift Giving.

Just how much are the parents responsible for the indiscriminate giving of presents between boys and girls? Of course, certain rules of etiquette obtain in certain classes of society, but there is a mass outside, in the country and small towns, who are not governed by the rules laid down by Madam Grundy. There seems to be a tendency toward expensive gifts among the young people of today. Should a young girl be allowed by her parents to accept gifts other than candy, flowers, music and books from her boy friends? The question often comes up in the homes when some boy, all in good faith, gives the girl friend a bit of expensive jewelry. Some mothers, at once, compel the girl to return the gift and that ends the friendship and causes an embarrassing situation. Of course, there are girls, without conscience or that intimate refinement which every good wholesome girl possesses, who just go with a boy for the sake of the gifts lavished upon her.

Now, does the responsibility of indiscriminate giving rest with the parents of the boy or the girl? If the boy was trained by his mother not to offer expensive presents to the girls until Miss Right comes along, it would save many a heartache. If the girl has been properly instructed, could not she, in an unobtrusive way, give the boy to understand that such gifts were not desirable? Indiscriminate giving between boys and girls often causes an innocent friendship to degenerate into mawkish sentimentality.—The Housekeeper.

ONLY USED SAFETY MATCHES.

Tender-Hearted Man Explains Why
He Has Given Up the Other Kind.

"I never carry any but safety matches," said the orator in the red, white and blue vest. "It's a matter of conscience with me."

"Why so?" inquired the drum major.

"Because," said the orator, "when the world uses safety matches exclusively, phossy jaw will disappear. You know what phossy jaw is? It's the rotting away of the jawbone, as horrible an ill as leprosy, that is contracted by the workers—poor duffers—in factories where strike-anywhere matches are made. Phossy jaw comes from white phosphorus. White phosphorus is the base of strike-anywhere matches, but in safeties there's not a grain of it, and so in safety-match factories phossy jaw is unknown."

"It always seems to me," concluded the orator, "when I scratch a strike-anywhere match, that I am helping to give some poor girl or boy worker phossy jaw. But when I scratch a safety, then I feel like Flexner in his Rockefeller institute or Metchnikoff in his laboratory—I am helping to rid the world of disease."

How to Inclose a Stamp.

"There's only one decent way to inclose a stamp for a reply," said the head of a large business, "and that is to use one of the stamps from the outside rows of a sheet with a blank margin that can be stuck upon the letter and leaves the stamp ready for use. Any other way either loses the stamp or else spoils it for use. But I found to-day a trick that is pretty good. Most people inclose the stamp by sticking it down at one corner, and then you have to paste that corner down when you use the stamp. The way I do is to wet the stamp in a little space in the center and stick it there. It pulls off easily, yet when you use the stamp all the edges have gum enough to stick."—Farm Machinery.

Flowers Without Foliage.

One of the most extraordinary flowers in cultivation is Hall's amaryllis, which reverses the order of nature by blooming in midsummer without any foliage. Ordinary bulbs bloom in spring and rest in summer, but Hall's amaryllis suddenly appears out of the bare ground during the dry season. This extraordinary plant has fragrant, rosy lilac flowers which are hooded with yellow. In the spring the leaves make their growth, die down, and after a long interval of rest the flower stalks appear with the whorls of buds here described.—Garden Magazine.

Versatile Destiny.

A man becomes a fan and soon loses his health and home. Another yearns to shuffle off this mortal coil and gets kicked into a prison cell by his hasty sister. Another learns to his surprise, as thousands have learned before him in various ways, that there are all kinds of unsuspected dangers in sitting on a sofa with a young woman. A wife may spring a divorce, a father may take a sudden notion to kick or spank, and lightning may yank an innocent young man away from his girl and make dents in the ceiling with him. Destiny is a surprisingly versatile thing, with a million and one ways of knocking human plans galley-west.

BILL STUBBS OF KANSAS.

Kansas views the activities of the new governor with feelings of almost unmitigated joy. But the railways, whom he disciplined with an anti-pass law and several other forms of drastic legislation besides the public commission bill, have another idea about him.

"What do you think of Stubbs?" a visitor asked one of the ex-railway lobbyists.

"Well," he replied, "he reminds me of the story of a North Carolina wedding. They as the Lord have fined, let no man put asunder," says the parson.

"Parson," says the bridegroom, "I rises to question your grammar in that sentence. We wants this wedding done right."

"When the smoke had cleared away the bride looked around on a dead minister, a dead brother, a dead bridegroom and several other dead men lying near, and sighed:

"Them new-fangled, self-cookin' revolvers," said she, "sure has played hell with my prospects."

Salting a Diamond Mine.

Howard DuBois, the noted mining engineer, told a good story to the Tech men recently, illustrating the "art" of salting a diamond mine. The story was told of a man in South Africa who, while walking one day over his property, suggested that they assay some of the soil.

In the search that ensued eight rough diamonds were found and offers began to fly through the air at a rapid rate for the land, when the host's wife called out to her husband, "Why, John, where are the other two?" The sequel of the story was left to the imagination.

GRATED ON JURY'S FEELINGS.

Lawyer's Oratorical Flight Well
Meant, But It Did Not Tend to Help His Client.

According to an Indiana lawyer, the verdict of the jury in a case tried in that state was distinctly influenced by an unfortunate break made by a youthful attorney in his closing address.

The defense put forward had been that the defendant was an imbecile, and consequently was unable to distinguish between right and wrong. In his summing up the young lawyer made clever use of this point; but, when about to close, expressed himself in this extraordinary manner:

"Gentlemen of the jury, gaze upon this unfortunate defendant. Regard, gentlemen, that receding forehead, the significant angle of those ears, the lack-luster expression of those eyes. Need I remind the gentlemen of the jury that these are unmistakable evidences of Nature's deprivation of the power to distinguish right from wrong? Ignorant of this distinction between right and wrong, gentlemen of the jury, how can this poor imbecile be convicted of the charge brought against him? Why, gentlemen, this unhappy man is like a two-year-old child—he neither knows why he does a thing nor how. Therefore, gentlemen, it is with peculiar pride I reflect that, such are the institutions of this, the greatest and most glorious of all nations, that my client, imbecile though he be, to-day stands for a trial by a jury of his peers!"—The Sunday Magazine.

YSAYE GOT PRECIOUS VIOLIN.

Renowned Virtuoso Owes Possession of Instrument to the Generous
Act of a Friend.

An interesting story is told of M. Eugene Ysaye. In his younger and poorer days he was very anxious to secure a Guadagnini violin which he saw in a pawnbroker's window in Hamburg. Although he had not the wherewithal, he asked the pawnbroker to lay it aside, as he might be able to purchase it some day. The man agreed to keep it for a certain time. Ysaye went back to his rooms with very mingled feelings. How could he raise the necessary money? That was the question which puzzled and worried him. To his great surprise he met a friend who had just arrived from Belgium, and in despair begged him to lend him enough to buy the wonderful instrument. "It's a large sum to pay," said the friend, "and I haven't enough money with me." "Would you lend it if you had?" asked the violinist. "Yes," was the reply. "Look here, then," said Ysaye, "you deal in diamonds?" "Yes." "Then leave a few diamonds as security and get me the precious Guadagnini." Ysaye's friend was surprised at the proposal, but realizing the earnestness of the request, consented to do so. "In this way," says Ysaye, "I was married to my first love among the fiddles—my Guadagnini."

Her Good Excuse.

On his estate in the Catskills a New York man employs a great deal of local help, giving the farmers and their folk the preference whenever possible, in his big-hearted way. Not long ago, his cook needed an assistant and he engaged a neighboring farmer's wife to come over the next day. When she arrived at 7:30 a. m. she apologized for being late and explained that before leaving home she had got breakfast for the family of six, had put up a lunch for her husband and one son, who were going to work in the field, and another lunch for three of the children who were going to school, had milked five cows, fed the pigs and chickens and walked a mile to the New York man's place. He said he would excuse her for not getting there at six.

Richard Wagner.

"Every one finds some fault with Wagner, but that is because he is a mountain, a huge bulk of a soul with black caverns, scarred edges, barren wastes and empty craters. He has been weather-stained, mud-spattered, lightning-struck, dynamite-blasted, but still he is a mountain; his thrust is upward, the peak is snow and sunshine, and he commands the horizon. He belongs with the master heights of human glory, with Homer, Dante, Shakespeare, Milton, Michelangelo, Beethoven; and he is of a bigness with the biggest."—Rupert Hughes in Smith's Magazine.

Dickens Family Lost Big Fortune.

Dickens was one of the most successful financially of all authors. His was no case of genius starving in a garret. "Pickwick" placed him above want at 25, and for a period of 30 years following its publication in 1836-7 he received a princely income from his writings. His American tour brought him $50,000. His estate at his death in 1870 was estimated at $400,000. That his grandchildren should now be in need of the trifling pension bestowed on them is a painful illustration of the vicissitudes of family fortune.

A Dreary Land.

The country from Jerusalem to the Jordan valley is as dreary and desolate as could be imagined.

The hills look like great banks of rock and sand. Not even the Sahara looks more forbidding. It is a land of such dreary monotony that the wildest imagination could not have dreamed of such a scene.

THE LANGUAGE OF THE GAME.

"He ambled to the A-one sack;" "The gentle welder soon was whiffed;" "Umpa waved the orator way back;" "A Wilbur Wright the batter biffed;" "Tis here again, O brothers all—The pleasing language of baseball."

"He leaned against the Hurler's slant;" "The catcher pegged him by two feet;" "Of bingles we were somewhat scant;" "Such spitball serves were hard to beat."

Beside it classic tongues seem tame—The language of the glorious game.

"He whanged the shy, elusive pill;" "The garden guardian speared the sphere;" "The bleacherites yelled: 'Oh, you Bill!'" "Red Casey was the cannoner;" "No doubt of it—spring has the door—When baseball talk has bloomed once more."

Some Eating.

An Icelandic legend relates that upon one occasion Thor ate without any assistance, save that of being provided with the rations, eight salmon, a full-grown ox, a large quantity of sweetsmeats and three firkins of "sparkling mead." No wonder he was a husky god and was a fine hand with a hammer. The bold men of the north strove to emulate Thor's prowess as a trencherman at every feast they had, sometimes with astonishing success. Those were indeed brave days, before indigestion had come to vex the world and centuries before man ever dreamed that he had an appendix.

That Kind of a Man.

The Georgians of Augusta are chuckling over a new anecdote about Mr. Taft.

Mr. Taft, it seems, drove out one afternoon to see a Georgia planter. The planter's cook, a very old woman, takes no interest in public affairs, and she did not recognize the portly guest.

"What did you think of that gentleman, Martha?" the planter asked, after Mr. Taft had driven off.

"Well, sir," old Martha replied, "I can't say as I saw nothin' pertickler about him. He looked to me like the kind of man as would be pretty reglar to his meals."

HER FIRST RACE.

He—I'm going to have a fiver on Bullrush at 10 to 1.

She—I'm afraid you're late; it's half-past two o'clock now.

Shown Up.

Oh, sunshine of the springtime! You turn the dust to gold—But, gee! you make the furniture And wallpaper look old!

A Peevish Editor.

The man who is too poor to take a good county paper like the Democrat, is able though, to buy a dog, shotgun and a two-dollar watch. He usually educates his children on the streets, and boards his chickens on his neighbors.

Conundrum.

Freshman—Who is the smallest man mentioned in history?
Sophomore—I give up.
Freshman—Why, the Roman soldier who slept on his watch—University of Pennsylvania Punch Bowl.

Name and Measure Matched.

"Why did you change your coal dealer?"

"I didn't like the name of the last one."

"What was it?"

"Littleton."

Electrocuted.

"Waiter, has this steak been cooked?"

"Yes, sir; by electricity."

"Well, take it back and give it another shock."—Judge.

Outdoor Trimmings.

"Tell me something."

"Well?"

"What's an al fresco lunch?"

"A lunch served with caterpillars instead of flies."

His Fun.

"What is your husband's chief amusement?" asked the curious neighbor.

"Doing things I don't want him to do," replied the wife quickly.

His Natural Class.

"Tramps are a class of people who do not seem to me to live at all. They simply vegetate."

"Well, they really are beats, you know."

The Way Out.

He—Your milliner's bill has cost me last year as much as the salary of my keepers. That is more than I can afford.

She—Charge one of them.

"You Must Get Up Steam"
Before the Engine Will "Go!"

An engine does not run today because there was a fire, and steam, in it yesterday. Nor does it run because it's a good engine---the best in the railroad yards; nor because people are in the habit of seeing it run, and know that it CAN run.

The fireman has to build a fire in it TODAY if it is to be useful today.

A store is not a busy store unless it is advertised today. It's not busy because it is "well known;" nor because it is a good store, and well located. It "goes" because of the publicity steam that is gotten up TODAY.
